FOOD STASH FOUNDATION

OVERVIEW

- Food Stash rescues good food that would otherwise go to waste. We pick up healthy surplus food from retailers, wholesalers, and farms, and deliver the food to households in need through our Rescued Food Boxes, and to charitable partner organizations. We also run a weekly Rescued Food Market.
- If you're helping us raise funds for something specific, and we reach our goal, gifts will go towards the next greatest need. Our programs complement and depend on each other, so your gift always supports Food Stash's mission.

RESPECT FOR DIGNITY AND PRIVACY

- If you use images or messaging representing Food Stash program or service users, all content must be respectful and portray a positive, dignified message.
- Images, quotes, and depictions of Food Stash volunteers, partners, or program / service users may only be used with their express consent and the approval of Food Stash. Please talk to us first.

FUNDRAISING FAQ

- Q - Can I / my company / my school fundraise by asking others to support Food Stash?
- A - Yes! Anyone can easily create their own online peer-to-peer fundraiser. Contact us for help.

- Q - Are donations eligible for tax receipts?
- A - Yes, donations of $3 cash or more online receive tax receipts automatically. In accordance with Canada Revenue Agency guidelines, tax receipts will only be issued to the true donor; not to an honouree or to someone collecting donations from others. Tax receipts will not be issued to charities. To be eligible for a tax receipt, donations must be voluntary and must not be from sales or fees.

- Q - Can I raise cheque / cash donations ?
- A - Yes. Cheques payable to Food Stash Foundation can be mailed to us. Please do not mail cash. E-transfers can also be made to donate@foodstash.ca

- Q - Can I go door-to-door to fundraise?
- A - No. Food Stash does not solicit funds door-to-door. Please reach out to people you are connected with (e.g. social media, email contacts, customers, clients, etc.) to help you reach your fundraising goal.

TIMEFRAME

- Please let us know with as much notice as possible if you have any deadlines or time-sensitive asks.
- December is a busy month for our programs and services, so if you fundraise with us in December, we may wait until January to recognize and celebrate with you.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT!
